Tasting notes

Faiveley's 1991 Clos de Vougeot is a large-scaled, tightly knit wine with plenty of oak in its forceful, ripe, black-cherry aromas and flavors. It is well-proportioned, with copious quantities of tannin, and fine depth and balance.

About the producer

Nestled unassumingly on a quiet street in beautiful Nuits St Georges, Faiveley, headed by the suave and welcoming Erwan, is quite an operation. One of the truly great, historic Domaine of Burgundy, with stunning cellars and many glorious holdings from Gevrey to Pommard, via some brilliant Grands Crus, Erwan and his new team have everything that a Burgundian could desire. Traditionally, the Faiveley style was uncompromising but while still unquestionably making some of the longest-lived wines in the Côte, there is today far more finesse and precision in evidence, pointing to a more careful and up-to-date approach.
