Tasting notes

This is where it all started. Kinheimer Hubertuslay was Markus's father's vineyard and often unfairly overlooked. What had previously been considered a "lesser" site shines in the hands of this Riesling master, delivering incredible balance and grace. The soil here is predominately grey slate with fine loam sediments. Due to the unsheltered exposure at the top of the Mosel valley, the Kinheimer Hubertuslay is a little cooler and windier. The Wine Advocate has consistently praised the quality of this wine, with Stephan Reinhardt writing of the 2016 vintage: "This so incredibly delicious that it is almost impossible to share a bottle. You will most probably have emptied the bottle on your own before you will have realised that your counterpart likes second glass as well". A gorgeous drinking experience that we recommend not to miss.

Past Wine Advocate Scores:
