Tasting notes

Elegant aromas of wild fruits, spices and toasty oak dominate these tightly wound scents. A seamless combination of tobacco, liquorice and spiced dark fruit flavours on the palate. Tannins are refined, pure and impeccably balanced, carrying the fruit to a powerful, lingering finish. Drink 2012-2035. 97 points

About the producer

Bought by Jean de Pontac in 1533 and passing through 4 different families before its purchase in 1935 by Clarence Dillon, Château Haut Brion has had one of the most celebrated histories of any château. Prince Robert of Luxembourg and his mother the Duchesse de Mouchy, president of Domaine Clarence Dillon, must be proud that 75 years later the family is still very much involved. 3rd generation Jean Philippe Delmas is in charge of the winemaking, ably assisted in continuing the excellence of Haut Brion wines by Jean-Philippe Masclef as maître de chai, and Pascal Baratié the vineyard manager.
