Tasting notes

This is a superb wine. Full of intense notes of honeysuckle, Seville orange marmalade and a touch of light caramel. The palate displays powerful tones of silky smooth honey, orange essence and a real citrus zing that leads to gentle spice on the finish. This wine lingers on and on; it is pure finesse. It would be perfectly matched with lemon tart

About the producer

Founded in 1853, Domaine Boeckel is now run by the 5th generation of winemakers, Jean-Daniel and Thomas Boeckel. A true Alsatian gem, the Domaine stretches over 23ha of vineyards now farmed according to organic viticulture. Their pure, mineral and elegant wines are a great way to start exploring the depth and potential of Alsace. From the only vineyard in the world to produce Sylvaner with Grand Cru status, to their concentrated and powerful Rieslings to bewitching Gewürztraminer, there is plenty for any wine aficionado to love. Those are wines perfect to experiment with food-wise.
