Tasting notes

Always the most mineral wine in the cellar, les Chatelots is right in the heart of the village next to Gruenchers and above Charmes. This wine combines an open, pleasing style with supple tannins but with the whiff of smoke and rocks from the soils. Concentrated and with dry mineral extract on the palate, this is intense and impressive and keeps on going well beyond the the certainty of the last drop.

About the producer

Domaine Anne et Hervé Sigaut is concentrated in Chambolle Musigny and Morey St Denis and has developed a loyal following amongst serious Pinot lovers. Hervé Sigaut and his wife Anne took over the running of the estate in 1990. They are very genuine people with a good sense of humour and spend a great deal of their time in the vineyards to ensure that the fruit reaches the highest level of quality. Many of their vineyards are still ploughed by horse and Hervé follows the lunar calendar for most activities in the vineyard and the cellar, adopting a minimal approach to winemaking. This dedicated husband and wife team have been quietly making exceptional wines for two decades and the 2011 continues the progress they have been making with an enviable range of very pure, perfectly balanced wines.
