Tasting notes

Subtle notes of ginger and cinnamon combine with the soft, peachy fruit. The acidity lifts the wine carrying it forward with energy and purpose. Less aromatic than the Vergers but with greater depth and density, this is a complete wine that is often one of the best insider-secrets in the village. Drink from 2012.

About the producer

One producer who expresses more than others the spirit of Chassagne-Montrachet. With pure, elegant wines that are always approachable in youth but have an incredible capacity of ageing and developing in the cellar for decades. Jean-Marc and Claudine Blain consistently produce some exemplary wines at village level and release some of the most sought-after Grand Crus from their tiny holdings of Caillerets.
