Tasting notes

This is often the site that Richard picks first as the old vines here invariably offer some of the ripest fruit from his various holdings. There is certainly additional richness and weight here but very well counterbalanced but the acidity of the vintage. Orchard fruits and a creaminess on the palate make this already very appealing. Drink from 2011.

About the producer

One producer who expresses more than others the spirit of Chassagne-Montrachet. With pure, elegant wines that are always approachable in youth but have an incredible capacity of ageing and developing in the cellar for decades. Jean-Marc and Claudine Blain consistently produce some exemplary wines at village level and release some of the most sought-after Grand Crus from their tiny holdings of Caillerets.
