Tasting notes

A really engaging wine, the Champ Canet has been a noted success in many domaines this year and Sauzet's example is amongst the best. Quince, apricot and mirabelle plums on the nose with a bright, citric rush on the palate, a little butterscotch creeps in also to give a sweet and enriched finish to an otherwise bright, poised wine. Drink from 2012.

About the producer

Domaine Sauzet is another of the top tier Domaines in Puligny-Montrachet that never fails to cause a fight at allocation time. A terrific estate with an outstanding set of top 1er and Grand Cru holdings, Gérard Boudot and his family have been on top form of late. With the secret to great wine so much about the quality of the fruit from which it is made, the Sauzet name is today very much a guarantee of fine quality.
