

2008 Viña Alberdi Reserva

La Rioja Alta S.A., Rioja Wine Region, Spain

Product details

Vintage:	2008	Drinking:	Now 2021
Producer:	La Rioja Alta S.A.	Alcohol:
Region:	Rioja Wine Region	Variety:	Tempranillo
Country:	Spain

Tasting notes

Medium depth cherry red with a clean bright, orange rim. Its nose is intense with dominating ripe fruit and strawberry jam rounding off the background notes of cacao, vanilla, caramel, smoke from oak ageing. A pleasant acidity and soft round tannins provide a very pleasant, medium bodied mouthfeel. Intense finish with persistent hints of strawberry jam, cacao and vanilla and a seductive final acidity that entices you to carry on drinking.

About the producer

Formed by five families in the late 19th century, the La Rioja Alta S.A. winery is one of the most iconic names in Fine Wine, and a benchmark for the traditional style of Rioja. Their Tempranillo-led reds are aged for remarkably long periods in barrels from the producer's cooperage, and they are one of the last remaining producers to rack their wines by hand and by candlelight – which they do every six months. While they always upheld standards and tradition, La Rioja Alta S.A. never stopped experimenting and pushing for better quality, offering some of the purest, more precise expressions of Tempranillo in the world.

