Tasting notes

Behind the Caillerets in its development at this stage but with huge promise in store. It is the sense of presence on the palate and the imposing length on the finish that speaks of the quality here. There is abundant power and the most overt minerality of all of the 1er Crus on show today but the aromatics just need to be given time to properly integrate.

About the producer

One producer who expresses more than others the spirit of Chassagne-Montrachet. With pure, elegant wines that are always approachable in youth but have an incredible capacity of ageing and developing in the cellar for decades. Jean-Marc and Claudine Blain consistently produce some exemplary wines at village level and release some of the most sought-after Grand Crus from their tiny holdings of Caillerets.
