Tasting notes

Appealing ripe fruit on the nose. A deep purple red with dark ripe fruit and spice flavours rich, full and mouth filling. Good weight and texture and a lift of acidity on the finish.

About the producer

Clau de Nell is the late Anne Claude Leflaive's property in the Loire Valley. The Estate was named after its previous Burgundian owners, Claude and Nelly, who originally bought the property back in 2000 in order to follow their dreams of producing biodynamic wine which was then frowned upon in Burgundy. These strict biodynamic principles are still followed both in the vineyard and the cellar. Anne Claude bought the Estate in 2008 and no wines were bottled commercially for a few years whilst the property was given the full Domaine Leflaive treatment.
