Tasting notes

---

A refined and perfectly balanced wine with a lovely scented nose of sweet red berries and roses with subtle notes of incense. The palate is rich and voluptuous with bright redcurrant fruits followed by darker blackberry flavours and an elegant, zesty finish. This wine has the potential to age very well but will be approachable a few years after release. Drink from 2016.

About the producer

Spending any time with Nicolas Potel in Burgundy can't help but to make even the most ardent of critics a lifelong convert. Nicolas is another man of boundless energy but his approach is very organic, adhering to the natural rhythms wherever possible. Such an unforced, careful, natural and sensitive approach is reflected perfectly in his wine and Nicolas has brought a breath of fresh air to Burgundy over the last decade and more. Quite simply, he remains one of Burgundy's brightest talents.
