Tasting notes

52% Semillon / 48% Sauvignon Blanc. A very aromatic and appealing bouquet of lemons and limes with notes of grapefruit and white flowers. The palate is full of juicy, ripe stone fruits with a mouthwatering green apple character on the finish. This is a deliciously appealing and beautifully harmonious wine with wonderful energy and length. It will be perfect for drinking on release. Now-2015

About the producer

Le Grand Village is the original Bordeaux home of the Guinaudeau family, better known as the producers of Château Lafleur in Pomerol. The same team and equal level of detailed attention are dedicated to winemaking in this château in Fronsac on the Right Bank. This results in a red (Merlot/Cabernet Franc) and a white (Sauvignon Blanc/Sémillon) wine which far outstrip their nominal Bordeaux Supérieur status, creating some of the most exciting releases in the appellation. If one wants to glimpse into the Guinaudeau's savoir-faire, then Grand Village is an unmissable addition to any cellar.
