Tasting notes

A blend of 64% Sauvignon Blanc and 36% Semillon, this is the best Grand Village Blanc we have ever tasted. The aromas are persistent and refreshing with complex notes of white flowers and lively citrus fruits with just a hint of elegant spice. Mouthwatering lemon and lime flavours on the palate mingle with delicate floral characters and a lovely chalky minerality which gives great length and depth. Drink this deliciously refreshing wine from release to 2020

About the producer

Le Grand Village is the original Bordeaux home of the Guinaudeau family, better known as the producers of Château Lafleur in Pomerol. The same team and equal level of detailed attention are dedicated to winemaking in this château in Fronsac on the Right Bank. This results in a red (Merlot/Cabernet Franc) and a white (Sauvignon Blanc/Sémillon) wine which far outstrip their nominal Bordeaux Supérieur status, creating some of the most exciting releases in the appellation. If one wants to glimpse into the Guinaudeau's savoir-faire, then Grand Village is an unmissable addition to any cellar.
