Tasting notes

A classic Chablis to be drunk fresh and young. Lively citrus and green apple aromas with a delicate mineral note are followed by refreshing flavours of lemon and lime with hints of toast and honey and a delicious, mouthwatering acidity. Sébastien Dampt's 2011 vintage will be a beautiful accompaniment to all types of fish and shellfish. While made to be drunk now, this Chablis will be at its best until 2014.

About the producer

Nestled between the 1er Cru vineyards of Côte de Léchet and Vaillons in the south-east of Chablis, Domaine Sébastien Dampt stretches over 7 ha of some of the most sought-after terroirs in the region. Sébastien set up his Domaine in 2007, after working closing with his father Daniel and brother Vincent at Domaine Daniel Dampt. A clear superstar of the future, his wines are some of the purest, most ethereal expressions of Chablis – mostly vinified in stainless steel to safeguard the fruit's nuanced expression of his terroirs.
