Tasting notes

The 2012 Volnay Village comes from 11 parcels scattered around the appellation. There are usually two cuvees but this year there is only one. It has a tight, mineral bouquet that will need several months after bottling to really unwind. The palate is smooth and harmonious; the acidity well-judged with lovely ripe red cherry and strawberry notes furnishing the “neat and tidy” finish. Conservative – but in a positive sense.

About the producer

One of the legendary estates in Volnay, Domaine Lafarge has been crafting understated and pure expressions of Pinot Noir for decades. Committed vignerons Michel Lafarge and his son Frederic tend to 11.6 ha of vines in Volnay and Beaune. The range is a dazzling collection of terroir-driven Burgundy's which are incredibly traditional in style. Little new oak is used in the winery allowing the purity of the fruit to shine through, giving wines of exceptional purity, focus and energy.
