Tasting notes

The geological elements of the soil in this site, makes Lamm unique and guarantees expressive, elegant Grüner Veltliner. The almost velvety nose of subtle sweet spice and profound yellow fruit aromas combines with a smokiness reminiscent of bees wax. The palate offers texture, transparent and balanced honey melon flavours and just a touch of residual sugar. The finish is long, with notes of tobacco and hints at a very good potential for ageing.

About the producer

Weingut Eichinger Wine

With every vintage, Birgit Eichinger never fails to astound us with the exceptional quality of her wines. Highly expressive, elegant and with wonderful purity, we have had the pleasure of marvelling at these stunning Austrian wines for the last eight years that we have been working with Weingut Eichinger.

Birgit Eichinger established a winery of her own situated on a superb spot at the foot of the Gaisberg Mountain in 1992 having spent time experimenting on 3.5 hectares of her parents' land in the Kamptal. Her reputation as a talented viticulturist and oenologist has continued to grow, and she has become mentor and friend to many up-and-coming female winemakers who still take their lead from her. Vital to her work is maintaining the purity of the must prior to fermentation, while slightly warmer fermentations add texture to the body of the Weingut Eichinger wine which complements her painstaking work in the 9 hectares of vineyards in some of the best traditional Austrian wine sites in Strasse.
