

2014 Sauvignon Blanc

Castello di Buttrio, Friuli Colli Orientali, Italy

Product details

Vintage:	2014	Drinking:	Now 2020
Producer:	Castello di Buttrio	Alcohol:
Region:	Friuli Colli Orientali	Variety:	Sauvignon blanc
Country:	Italy

Tasting notes

Very aromatic yet elegant with distinctive yellow peppers, sage, tropical fruits, peach and melon and wild fennel. This Sauvignon is full-bodied, gracefully contoured and velvety-smooth. Marvellous with crustaceans whether raw or gracing a plate of pasta. Excellent with aromatic spring herb risottos.

About the producer

In Friuli's Colli Orientali, Alessandra Felluga produces wines which proudly showcase the Veneto wine region of north-eastern Italy. Characterised by intense fruit and acidity, thanks to low yields, and minerality from the rich soil, Castello di Buttrio wines are best known for their single-variety bottlings of indigenous grapes - white Friulano and Ribolla Gialla, red Refosco and Pignolo. However, it also produces excellent Chardonnay and Sauvignon Blanc, as well as growing Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon, for use in the red of the two blends.

