Tasting notes

"The 2015 Pinot Noir Bien Nacido Vineyard is plump, juicy and immediate, but then gains substance and volume with time and wine some aeration, Smoke, game, tobacco and iron give the Bien Nacido a distinct feral quality. A spine of firm tannin confers power and gravitas while shaping the finish. This is highly expressive and layered Pinot from Trey Fletcher and Bien Nacido Estate." Antonio Galloni, 93 Points, Vinous

About the producer

In 1969, brothers Bob and Steve Miller found a parcel of land they immediately knew had incredible potential for grape growing. Their vision was simple, to develop a vineyard that would be acknowledged as amongst the most recognised vineyards of the world. It took them four years of hard work to set up the 121 hectares of Pinot Noir and Chardonnay. The combination of rocky soils, cool climate and ocean influence as well as the talented winemaker, Anthony Avila, make the Bien Nacido wines a superb, handcrafted range whose pedigree is simply unparalleled.
