Tasting notes

"Deep purp-black in color, the 2016 Clos les Lunelles bursts from the glass with flamboyant black cherries preserves, black raspberries, kirsch and crème de cassis notes with touches of violets, licorice and Chinese five spice. Full, rich, concentrated and decadently fruited in the mouth, it fills the palate with exotic spice accents and a firm yet velvety frame, finishing very long and hedonic."

About the producer

Convinced by the potential of its terroir, Gérard Perse purchased Clos Lunelles in 2001. Located on the plateau of Sainte Colombe, the highest point of the Castillon Côtes de Bordeaux appellation, the estate is situated along the extension of the Saint-Émilion limestone plateau, with which it shares the essential characteristics. Since the purchase, the same technical team has watched over this wine estate with care, rigour and passion.
