Tasting notes

A classic Bourgogne Blanc in the style of Meursault with apricots, lemon rind and hints of toast. It is made up of parcels within Meursault that totals 2.25 hectares with vines averaging 25 years old. As Allen Meadows of Burghound said, "This is a very good Bourgogne."

About the producer

Domaine Patrick Javillier is in the heart of Meursault, covering 11 hectares in the Côte de Beaune. The history of the estate traces back to 1945 when Raymond Javillier decided to cultivate 2 hectares of vineyards which had always belonged to the family. When Patrick, Raymond's son, joined his father in the mid-70s started to work tirelessly to expand the family holdings and elevate the standing of the estate as one of the references in Mersault. Now, the third generation is gradually taking over, helping to craft exciting Chardonnay and Pinot Noir full of energy and verve.
