About the producer

Very few families know Barolo more than the Borgogno family - the Cavaliere Francesco Borgogno, founder of the winery served as mayor of Barolo for 30 years! The passion for his land pushed him to tirelessly work to promote the wines of his region, through his production while also providing better training and education to the local farmers. Celebrating 120 years of wine production in 2017, we can say that Francesco's legacy and his authentic, genuine approach to winemaking are in safe hands.
