Tasting notes

An attractive wine with lovely length, from vineyards with clay soils, there is white fruit in abundance on the nose. Generous pear and juicy citrus flavours are balanced by lively acidity. This is a super charged Bourgogne Blanc from the newly created Bourgogne Côte d'Or appellation. Drink from 2019.

About the producer

Domaine Patrick Javillier is in the heart of Meursault, covering 11 hectares in the Côte de Beaune. The history of the estate traces back to 1945 when Raymond Javillier decided to cultivate 2 hectares of vineyards which had always belonged to the family. When Patrick, Raymond's son, joined his father in the mid-70s started to work tirelessly to expand the family holdings and elevate the standing of the estate as one of the references in Mersault. Now, the third generation is gradually taking over, helping to craft exciting Chardonnay and Pinot Noir full of energy and verve.
