Tasting notes

The terroir of Tokaj and the expertise of Chateau Dereszla is combined in this noble wine, which was produced with traditional technology (Méthode Traditionnelle). The two most authentic grape varieties of the Tokaj Wine Region, Furmint and Hárslevelű gives us elegant acidity along with nice spiciness. The sunny straw color and aromatic bouquet reminds of country flowers. The full bodied taste and lovely freshness in the finish is impressing.

About the producer

Situated in the heart of the Tokaj region, the origins of Chateau Dereszla can be traced back to the 18th century. The Estate owns 27 hectares spread across the designated "Grand Cru" area, and the large diversity of soils throughout these vineyard holdings is a crucial factor in the complexity of their wines. The historic cellars were fully renovated in 2003 and equipped with state-of-the-art winemaking technology. The winemaking team has a long-established expertise in vinification, as well as sharing a dedication to perfection and passion for the beautiful wines that they produce.
